THE COMPENDIUM

OF THE

RECORDS IN THE TREASURY,

COMPILED AND DIGESTED BY

ARTHUR AGARDE, Esq. 1610.

A distinguishinge of the Threasauries.

1 The Recordes in the Kinge's Majesties Threasury at Westm̃, under the custodie of the Lord Threasurer and the two Chamberlaines there, may bee very conveniently distinguished for the better understandinge of them into two sortes; that is to say

- Recordes
  - Forreine — Id est, Leagues or treatyes betwixt Prince and Prince, or States of sundrie Nations. — Arcana Imperii.
  - Domesticall bee such
    - Such as concerne matters of estate and the Crowne only. — Arcana Imperii.
    - Pleadinges betwixt the Prince & Subject for the p̃servinge of the Kinge's prorogative.
    - Pleadings betwixt Subject and Subject.

Accoumpts of the Prince and concninge some of the Prince's landes and of the Subjectes also, &c.

Which recordes and monuments are layd up for their better pservacion in fower sevall Threasauries, (except some few kept in private officers handes, whereof I will hereafter make mencion,) under three sevall kayes, kept by three sondry officers distinct th one kay from an other, and uppon each dore three lockes, of which fower Threasauries, their places and what recordes they contaigne, hereafter shall be declared.

Threasauries of Recordes. 4.

- The first in the Court of Receipt.
- The seacond in y^e^ Newe Pallace at Westm̃.
- The third in the late dissolved Abbey of Westm̃ in the old Chapter House.
- The fourth in the Cloister of the sayd Abbey.

And for the more readines in findinge of the same recordes when occasion shall bee, both for the Kinge's service, and for answeringe of the Subject that repayreth to search, I have thought good to sett downe in what Threasauries the records are to bee found, and what records are layd upp in each Threasurie, (soe farre forth as my memory shall serve me,) beeing a great multitude, and the diversitie and pticlers thereof I am not hable to recount at large hearin, beeseeching all them y^t^ shall succeed me in the name of God for the ꝑvice of the Prince, satisfyinge of the Subject, and dischargeinge of theire owne duty with a good conscience, to have a speciall regard to observe some instructions (I presume soe to call them, because by longe experience I have learned and noted them,) which I shall lay downe heareunder, both for the ꝑservac̃on of the same recordes and for the ready findinge of them.

2 There is a fower fould hurte that by necligence may bringe wracke to recordes, that is to say } Fier, Water, Rates & mice, Misplacinge.

Which may bee ꝑvented, so farre foorth as man's witt may doe, (because all thinges are but vayne and ꝑish dailie,) by a fouerefould diligence and care to bee had about them.

Fier. First, for fier: to putt them in vawltes wherein sondry are now, and into the same vawltes might bee brought manie moe. Againe it is an awncient ordre to be observed, and hath bene kept in the said Threasauries, that noe candles should bee brought into y^e^ Threasauries but in candlestickes set in lanthorns, for avoydinge daunger of fier.

Water. The seacond, for water: th officers are bound by an auncient order, after a great glut of raigne snow or tempest to resort into the sayd Threasauries and to viewe whether the same wett weather have pearced through the vawlts and buildings and annoyed the same recordes; and if any such hurte have befallen to give ordre for present redresse of repac̃ons and to lay abroad the same recordes soe wett to th end they maye drie by aire especially, (or els before a fire, which is both dangerous and hurtfull;) for by defect of speedie reparacõns and removeinge and dryinge, many worthy recordes have beene blemished and decayed.

Rattes ꝛt Mice. For the third remedy against rates, mice, weesels, ꝛtc. the best way is to put the recordes in boxes chestꝭ and stronge presses: and surely I finde that many goodly and notable recordes have bene spoyled with that kind of vermin by gnawinge - - - - yea rates and mice will pearce through with gnawinge the presses of timber, if they bee not looked into sometimes to redresse the same.

Misplacinge. For the fourth, id est misplacinge; it is an evill that riseth by th officer that produceth the record for the search or service, and it is an enemye to all good ordre, and the bringer in of all horror and inconvenience amõnge records. For if theere bee not had regard for evy record to be placed in its right or knowne chest or presse ꝛt in its nature, but one thrust into an others bagge or misplaced in its Kinge's time ꝛtc. (as I sayd before,) it is impossible to find any thinge certaine, yea and th officer shall bee discredited when it shall be pleaded against him, Nul tiel record.

Now havinge set downe these fower inconveniences procuringe hurt and losse to recordes, with theire redresses, soe farr fourth as in my simple opinion may bee applied; there followeth yet a last daunger woorse then some of the former, that is even plaine takinge of them away: and that aryseth twoe manner of wayes, the first when one Privie Counsellor or moe Justicꝭ or any of the Kinges learned Counsell direct a warrant to th officers to bringe to them leagues books or other records, and then the same must bee left w^th^ them, * although th officers come for them & demaund them never soe oft, yet shall he seldome or never gett them out of their handes, as by experience I have found. The second, is the lendinge of bookes roles or records, to great officers or others, wherein it appeared to me that sundry have failed, for I have hard many things asked for w^ch^ have beene sent in [y^e^] Threasaurie. But y^e^ that bee officers and doe not respect the p̄servinge of them, may be sayd to have but smalle regard to ther othes.

"Now called "Auditor of "the Receipts' "Office."

3 Before I begin to shew what recordes lie in every Threasaury, I thinke it convenient to shew what particler records lie in the handes of private officers. And first M^r^ John Bingley ["Esq^r^"] keepeth all privie seales and inrolm^ts^ of patents and warrants for the issueinge of treas^e^ and th accoumpts thereof from the tellors, whereof he hath a great number in bagges and p̄sses in an office close by the Court of Receipt, and in an other office which he hath below, neere his house.

"Pell Office."

M^r^ Gidiok Warder keepeth the two Pelles, th one of Redditus called *Introit*ꝰ and the other of Exitus, whereof both sorts in a partic̄ler office in a rome appoynted for that use nerre the Court of Receipt, a greate number from Kinge Edw. the First untill nowe.

4 And soe farre forth as my memory will supplie, I will, with Gode's assistance shewe what recordes are arrayed and layd upp in every of the sayd fower Threasauries, and namely, first,

The Threasaurie of the Court of Receipt.

Two of the most auncyentest bookes of record in the Realme, made in William the Conquerers time (called Domesdei,) in the *xx*th yeare of his raigne. Th one booke in quarto contayninge the description of Essex Norff' ꝛt Suffolk, and in th other in folio, the like for all the Shires in England, from Cornwall to the river of Tyne.
